

LABELWORKS FOR HOSPITALITY

Whatever your labelling needs are, LabelWorks label makers and their supplies make organisation easy and increase your efficiency.

Clear labelling and signage are vital in hospitality environments. There are many potential hazards – such as dangerous equipment or out-of-date food – and being able to identify these at a glance helps protect both staff and customers.

From food labels to fire exit signs, you'll find a LabelWorks label maker designed for the job. They make it easy to create signs up to 100mm wide, ideal for signposting fire exits, hotel meeting facilities, staff-only areas, parking areas, electrical hazards, cleaning cupboards and hand washing facilities in commercial kitchens.

In addition to printing large signage labels, the versatile LabelWorks label makers can also create a range of smaller labels for identifying food names, dates and allergens, as well as kitchen equipment, workwear, uniforms and much more.

A wide range of labels in different colours, sizes and finishes means you'll always have the correct label for the task – including speciality labels such as writable matte paper labels that are ideal for noting best-before dates, iron-on labels for workwear labelling and glow-in-the-dark labels that are helpful for pantries and stairwells. There is also a choice of brightly coloured labels, including fluorescent shades, designed for creating eye-catching warning labels and hazard signs.

All Epson labels are resistant to abrasion and extreme temperatures, enabling them to withstand the tough demands of hospitality environments.
