Services

It is said that only those companies, who own a stable and trouble-free product, can provide prompt and efficient after-sales support to their clients. Believing in the same philosophy, we have always striven to build a product that is user-friendly, stable and robust thereby minimising the necessity of after-sales support. Numbers of appreciation COMMENTS that we have received from our clients in this regard bear a testimony to the same.

We offer a comprehensive suite of services, at reasonable charges, to help our clients make best possible use of our products. All these services are offered by us . The same are listed below:

Though EVERSHINE is a very user-friendly product, you might still require a EVERSHINE expert to train your staff or to implement EVERSHINE as per the needs of your organisation in order to enable you to make use of EVERSHINE most effectively. The implementation includes understanding the needs of your organisation .
